

HIS GUN FAILED TO WORK

Nebo, the muscular little Japanese former whose work in liquor illicit making and selling cases has been of much value in the past six months to the Police Department, met his Waterloo last Tuesday while playing the role of detective. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth received information that some Japanese near Heela were engaged in the manufacture of kokeshao and he sent Nebo there to investigate. Nebo was driven from town to the Pali but from that point he "hiked" it, explaining to his superior afterwards that if he had arrived at Heela astride a horse it would have looked suspicious. He therefore walked and when he came to the house where the alleged distillers lived, he knocked and after the usual salutations were concluded, Nebo asked to be allowed to remain over night and partake of a few meals. As there were half a dozen brawny Japs living there Nebo thought it best to remain outside until dinner was ready. One Jap looked fixedly at Nebo for a minute and then told him to wait until he had talked with the others. Nebo for some reason decided to take a peep at the inmates, and what he saw caused him to run for his life. The Japs had armed themselves with clubs and then started to do him up. While running Nebo drew a revolver loaned him by the Police Department, and thinking to frighten his pursuers, aimed it high and pulled the trigger. No report followed. Nebo pulled the trigger six times without effect and then ran harder than ever, for the revolver failed to make a sound. Running and walking, Nebo did not tarry until he had reached Honolulu and reported his failure at 4 a. m. Tuesday at Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth's house.

It was ascertained that the firing pin in Nebo's revolver had been filed off so that none of the cartridges could be exploded. It was simply a precaution taken by the department to keep Nebo out of trouble and prevent him from having a charge of murder placed against his name. As for the Japs attempting to assault Nebo, it was because one of them was acquainted with him and his work.

GILBERT AT THE ORPHEUM THEATER

That delicious breeze of wit and satire, "Pygmalion and Galatea," refreshed a large audience at the Orpheum Theater last evening. The classic Gilbertian comedy was a splendid selection for the Waldorf's repertoire, and the company succeeded admirably in portraying its delicate and subtle humor. The pointed character of the lines are difficult to realize, but in competent hands the performance went with the necessary "snap" from start to finish. Miss Waldorf's conception of Galatea will stand the test of severest criticism as a thoroughly efficient performance. She was sufficiently statuesque to create illusion, and her seriousness throughout the trying conditions of the part was splendidly sustained. The audience laughed heartily at the mock innocence which she so cleverly infused into the scenes with Pygmalion and that inimitable caricature, Chryses. No less artistic was Norval McGregor's impersonation of Pygmalion, characterized as it was by a thoroughly Gilbertian sense of humor. Mr. McGregor is again to be congratulated on a brilliant performance. Chryses was excellently drawn by Mr. Wilson Forbes, and the fun which his scenes created was kept up to concert pitch by the exquisite boldness of Mrs. Dow-Currier's Daphne. We understand that this lady is entirely responsible for the finished productions of this company by the thoroughness of her stage direction, upon which she is to be heartily complimented. Miss Amy Stanley's Cynisca was good, as all that young lady's work is. Mr. Jean de Lacey as Luluppe also contributed to the success of the production.

"Pygmalion and Galatea" will be repeated tonight, and tomorrow night "Turned Up," a highly amusing farce-comedy will be played.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY is intended especially for coughs, colds, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious; and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.

Important Reasons

Why Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co. Safes and Locks are the Best.

The concrete filling makes these safes absolutely fire proof and positively damp proof. The solid angle corners add greatly to their security in time of fire and form the only solid corners made. The patent Bolt Work is superior to any in use and does not require the constant oiling, cleaning and repainting that is acknowledged in other makes of safes. That although 600,000 of these safes are now in use and many thousands have been tested by some of the most disastrous conflagrations in the United States, there is not a single instance on record wherein one of them ever failed to preserve its contents perfectly. They make safes for county treasurers, county recorders, county clerks, jewelers, hotels, residences, churches and corporations. We have a large assortment of safes on hand and will be pleased to show same.
